

LA RIVIERA has joined the completed towers club in the Dubai Marina. Developed by B&M and designed by Holford Associates and The Acop Group, it aims to leave an impression. At first look it is just another 37 floors of elegance rising into the sky.

However, much care has been taken to use glass facades and bigger window size to attract as much light as possible into the living space. An especially spacious lobby is inviting. Views of the sea and golf course are guaranteed.

Residents are meant to live in the comfort of a grand residence, enjoying green surroundings and water fountains. Marble and Italian style features largely in the interior décor.

The building is designed for the whole family, covering security aspects and has. The Riviera Health Club allows toddlers to tumble in their very own pool. The adults can soak up the sun in the rooftop infinity pool and jacuzzi or work out in the gym.

The tower welcomes permanent residents as much as holiday makers looking for class and luxury with more space than just a hotel room.
